Fiction Contest Open to Girls

Mademoiselle is again sponsoring its annual College Fiction Contest, open only to undergraduate college women. Each of two winners receives $500 for all rights and publication in August 1950 Mademoiselle. The stories may vary in length from 3,000 to 5,000 words.

The format of the stories must suit these qualifications: Typewritten, double-spaced, one side of paper only, accompanied by contestant's clearly marked name, home address, college address, and college year.

Entries must be post marked no later than midnight, April 15, 1950. Mlle assumes no responsibility for manuscripts and will return only those accompanied by stamped self-addressed envelopes.

Only women undergraduates are eligible. Stories which have appeared in college publications are also acceptable but only if they have not been published elsewhere.

The Creative Writers Club, sponsored by Dr. Russell, invites all college women who are interested in writing fiction to enter the contest. If you would like your work approved and critized bring it to the Creative Writers Club which meets this Monday afternoon at 4:00 in Dr. Russell's office, and every other week thereafter.

Students Rates Apply to Faculty

Student Night activities have thus far proved very successful. A minimum of 120 students were at the Skate-R-Bowl on both Tuesday nights since Student Night was originated. As many as 45 students were on the floor skating (of falling) most of the time. The bowling alleys, shuffleboard and pool tables and dance floor were crowded both nights.

Two of the faculty enjoyed the activities last week and a third member, Miss Luke, joined Dr. Watson and Mr. Duncan this week. The student rates, though it wasn't pointed out, also apply to members of the faculty.

Beginning next week, February 1, Student Night will take place on Wednesday night and, as far as is known, this schedule will continue throughout the year.

If Schedule Doesn't Suit Turn In Your Favorites

Names of forthcoming movies at the Georgia and Drive-In theatres have been released for publication in The George-Anne by Mr. Hal Macon, theater manager. Mr. Macon is making an extra effort to please T. C. students by releasing this information several months in advance. He is also giving the students an opportunity to state what movies they would like most to see. Mr. Macon stated that he could rearrange his bookings and bring students' favorite movies if there is enough response to the request made in last week's paper concerning the three movies you would most like to see. This request and form MOVIES I WOULD MOST LIKE TO SEE is being repeated in this issue in the hope that the students will take advantage of it.

Movies coming to the Georgia Theater:

Great Lover, Hasty Heart, Pat O' Neil, And Baby Makes 3, Pinky, Christopher Columbus, On the Town, Thieves Highways, Harvest, Adam's Rib, Rosana McCoy, That Forsythe Woman, Sword in the Desert, South Sea, Malaya, Prince of Foxes, The Unafraid, She-Wore a Yellow Ribbon, and Colorado

All snapshots for the Reflector are expected to be turned in to Dick Cohan and I. E. Thigpen by Tuesday, January 31. Please cooperate with the Reflector staff.

Wayne Eley Named 1950 Cheerleader

Four-year old Wayne Eley was envious of Charles Jackson, our only male cheer-leader, and what man wouldn't be? Charles leads cheers with eight of our cutest co-eds.

Self-appointed, young Wayne led his own cheering section in the stands. Then he actually stepped out on the floor at one game and joined the varsity acrobats in a "wigggle-waggle-wiggle" yell. Fans were critical. Then there was applause—for the boy.

Spectators learned he was the son of student war veteran Hubert Eley of Iron City. Popular demand brought him back as a regular cheer-leader, with full blue-and-white regalia.

Nobody had to teach Wayne the yells or body contortions that go with the job. Instead, Jackson, who admittedly lacks rhythm, says he is "taking lessons" from, as well as a "back seat" to, a lad who has become the most popular male cheer-leader the Teachers College has ever had.

Daniels' Cartoon Advertisements

Bobby Daniels' cartoon, that startled everyone two weeks ago by featuring a "hag" as a contrasting idea to beauty, is being used by the Bulloch Herald as a Beauty Revue advertisement.

Bobby, who has recently been appointed staff cartoonist for the George-Anne, has amazed everyone with his "ideas for cartoons."

MUST HAVE CARDS OF IDENTIFICATION

Student I. D. cards will be checked at each basketball game. If you expect to see the game and have not acquired a card, get one from the business office immediately.

Letter From The Editor

Dear Readers:

Let's join the "March of Dimes." In commemoration of the late president, Franklin D. Roosevelt, who like so many everyday Americans, suffered from infantile paralysis, let's give our dimes and dollars to this really worthwhile cause. The money collected for the "March of Dimes" is used for medical purposes directed toward helping so many useful Americans regain their self-confidence and hold on life by restoring the use of their limbs.

When you pass a "March of Dimes" container without contributing something, you are actually cheating yourself. No one knows who when or where polio may strike next. The next neighborhood may be yours, the next time tomorrow, the next victim—you. The only way to fight the disease is through research and correct care of the ones who are victims or are exposed. The only-the only right way to raise the funds for such a program is to solicit money from the average man who wants to keep himself and his community safe from an epidemic. A dime isn't a drop in your bucket, but it may, when set side by side millions of other dimes, spread a lot of health and a wealth of happiness over our nation. Share what you have with others and they will share what they have with you when you are in need.

Fire Kills Pines On Front Campus

An uncontrolled fire swept from behind the Laboratory High School Tuesday afternoon almost to the front entrance. The blaze was stopped, but not before many of the pines on the front campus were killed. Everyone was relieved when the fire did not reach or spread across the street to the famous Herty pines that are to be an outstanding feature in our future Alumni Park.

New-Name Contest Deadline Extended

In last week's paper we asked for a new name for the home management house. A five-dollar reward was offered the student who submitted the best name. The contest ending date was set for today, January 28. Word has been received that the date of expiration has been extended till Monday, February 6. If you haven't already submitted a name, please do so right away. You might walk away five-dollars richer.

The five-act Revue will be presented in the college auditorium and will begin at 8:15. Previous pageants, despite an admission charge, have attracted more spectators than could see the show.

With the foreground of a Southern mansion as the setting, Miss Teachers College will emerge with her escort from a bevy of 24 contestants nominated by campus organizations.

The candidates are Misses Sara Betty Jones, Emily Williams, and Charlotte Clements, Statesboro; Lonodine Morgan, Egypt; Peggy Joyce Purser, Cochran; Peggy Zane Robinson, Millhaven; Josephine Starr, Greensboro; Anna Maria Tippins, and Elethia Edwards, Claxton; Eugenia Brown, Savannah; Fay Joyner, Augusta.

Miss Betty Fuller, of McRae, now a sophomore, won the event last year. Winners may not compete again, but she will present the bouquet designed for the 1950 queen.

Four Savannahians will serve as judges. They are Miss Gladys Lewis, stylist and lady manager of Morris Levy's Shop for Women; Mrs. Frances Anderson, former president of the Savannah Art League; Ted Waters, water-color artist and interior decorator; and Raiford Wood, director of the Tel-fair Art Academy.

The program will include continuous organ music by Prof. Jack W. Broucek of the college and novelty skits between acts.

Survey of University System

FROM SEPTEMBER to December of 1949, a survey was made of the University System of Georgia by a staff of men and women of highest competence. Dr. George D. Strayer, Professor Emeritus of Education, Teachers College, Columbia University, New York, N. Y., headed the committee who conducted the survey. We have taken a few excerpts from their report that pertain to T.C. These excerpts are

"The demand for specialized teachers of fine arts in the State of Georgia is not large. The Survey Staff recommends, therefore, that the preparation of teachers of fine arts at the major level be confined to the University and to the College for Women at Milledgeville, and at the minor level to the Teachers College at Statesboro."

"Further, at Statesboro, a high degree of art skill and understanding is needed on the part of specialized staff members if elementary teachers and industrial arts teachers are to be given the skills and competence they will need in their work. It is, therefore, recommended that the Teachers College at Statesboro be permitted to prepare teachers of the fine arts for the secondary school on a minor basis in combination with other subjects.

It does not seem desirable that the full development of the facilities and personnel for major emphasis upon the field of health and physical education should be permitted to a great number of the institutions of the University System of Georgia. It is recommended, therefore, that in a major sense the work in health and physical education leading to the Bachelor's degree should be confined to the University and to the Georgia State College for Women at Milledgeville.

The Survey Staff believes that the major emphasis upon the preparation of teacher-librarians should be at the University of Georgia. Hence, it recommends that the University continue its program for the preparation of teacher-librarians both on a major and a minor basis. But it also recommends that preparation of teacher-librarians be conducted at the College for Women at Milledgeville and at the Teachers College at Statesboro as a minor degree program, with majors in other fields of teacher education.

It is recommended that the Georgia Teachers College at Statesboro confine itself exclusively to the preparation of professional personnel for service in the public schools. Such personnel should be prepared for teaching in the secondary schools at the Bachelor's level exclusively, in the academic fields and in the industrial arts at the major level, and at the minor level in fields of health and physical education, fine arts, and teacher-librarianship.

The emphasis in the teacher education program of the Georgia Teachers College should be upon preparation for elementary school service. It is, therefore, recommended that the Georgia Teachers College be authorized to offer the programs for the preparation of professional elementary school personnel at the Bachelor's level, and, at the Master's level for elementary school principals and supervisors.

The improvement of the laboratory school and practice facilities at the Georgia Teachers College should have any priority.

Public Opinion

WHAT IS YOUR OPINION of how the recreation hour at the gym may be improved?

I. G.—I'm sure it can be improved, because everything else can, but I don't know how.

F. G.—The volume on the recorder could be louder so we could hear the music, and we need more ping-pong tables.

F. G.—Not enough people are going down there. The more, the merrier.

F. G.—People shouldn't go down and just sit. They can sit in the dormitory.

F. G.—More girls and boys should go, and more boys should ask the girls to dance.

F. G.—That the boys wouldn't monopolize the ping-pong table. The girls had to go over and just stand, because the boys think they are flirting. Also, a certain party should ask a certain other party to dance.

I. B.—They should have more dancing.

S. B.—The girls could be friendlier. Also, I would suggest that they take dancing lessons.

I. B.—They should get more games to play. Too many people can't, and don't like to, dance.

S. G.—What about checkers or chess, or something like that? Maybe some people don't like to dance.

S. G.—They should have a wider variety of activities, so that those who don't care to dance can have something else to do.

Letters to Editor

Dear Editor:

I realize that all students at G.T.C. have their pet gripes, but I think this letter will speak for a majority who have one feeling in common—WHY CHAPEL? By this, I am referring to the type and frequency of our (if you will pardon the expression) chapel.

As future teachers we are supposed to be intelligent enough to formulate our own opinions. We are being taught in our classes to strive toward culture in every field. What benefits, then, do we derive from politicians who must resort to compulsory chapels to gain an audience for an hour of subtle mud-slinging, and other "hammer knockers" who commit atrocities on the "King's English."

Evidently, many of our teachers feel the same as I about chapels. They are conspicuous by their absences (almost as conspicuous as the three teachers who were found asleep on the back row a few boring chapels ago).

I realize the task of our administration in trying to prepare interesting and informative chapels for us twice a week, but may I offer a suggestion? Why not work twice as hard on one chapel a week?

Sincerely

I. B. BORED.

Dear Editor:

Dog-gone it, I'm sick and tired of going down to the new gym to the Recreation Hour and having someone say: "Sorry, a ball game tonight." Most of these games never start before 8 o'clock and there should be plenty of time before 8 o'clock to get the gym ready for them. If there isn't, we suggest the ball games begin later. Why can't the Athletic Dept. do something about this? Isn't the gym for the use of all instead of a limited few?

AN IRRITATED STUDENT.

GOALS

Just how good is Perkins? Here are the figures on his first 12 games. He has played in 12 games, shot at the basket 223 times (including tip-in tries) and has made 103 baskets for a 46.1 average. Scotty has had 34 free shots and has made 21 of them for a 61.7 average.

There is no record of how many times he has set up plays and shots for the other boys on the team. Our hat is off to the big boy for his fine play up until now.

Have you ever seen a boy more miserable than Sonny Clements? Sonny has had hard luck so far this year with his ankle, and now he has been out of the lineup for a few games because of the flu.

Our hat is also off to the kid for his determination and will to win. If a boy is willing to play ball when he is sick with a fever, then we think he has what it takes to make a sportsman.

In my weekly talk with the coaches of this fine institution they brought to my attention that only 88 boys are playing intramural ball this quarter. They also went on to state that this situation has to be remedied at once. So, in an effort to bring more students (male) into these activities, the sports department of this, your weekly mistake, has hit upon the idea that volleyball would be a good sport. Anyone who would gather up ten men and turn in their names to play, to us, would be humbly thanked. As soon as this is done a schedule will be drawn up. A faculty team would be welcomed, but no house mothers will be allowed to play.

NAVY GETS DUCKED BY TIDE
Monday, Jan. 23, 1950. — The Blue Tide rolled over the Jacksonville Naval Air Station last Monday by a score of 72-40.

Scotty Perkins once more played upon the Navy's pride and joy with a total of 26 points. Bucky Helton and Ralph (Fireball) Parsons swished 17 and 15 respectively.

High-flying Navy men were Christeisen and Kilfriff, with 10 each.

TEACHERS STOP MARINES

The Blue Tide rolled over the P. I. Marines Wednesday night by a score of 82-56. Capt. Bucky Helton started the game despite the fact that he has been in bed with an inflamed kidney. Bucky was out to show the audience that had overflowed the gym just why he was an All-American. With his left hand hook shot and his tip-ins, he accounted for 24 of the Tide's points.

Scotty Perkins shot 19 and Roebuck 14 to carry off runner-up and consolation spots for the night.

Myerson was high for the Marines with 15.

TIDE vs. ERSKINE NEXT FRIDAY

Only one more week and the boys will take another crack at Erskine's Flying Fleet. This is the big one for the boys, and don't you ever doubt it. Man, there will be a pep rally before the game that will make other rallies look like nothing.

Now, if you don't get down for the rally and the game you may as well give up, for you are def a square.

Bring your noisemakers to the whole thing and just let 'er rip, because this will be the big day—Friday, February 10, at 8:15 p.m.

This is a plea that I have just been asked to state in this great write-up by a truly great sport fan: "Please," and he stated please twice, "faculty, don't call on the guys and gals to spend those hours in the Lib Friday for they have just gotta show the Erskine bunch that we really back our team.

TIDE, APPALACHIAN TANGLE TONIGHT

Last year the Tide lost three games and one was to the team they meet tonight. T.C. is rated over Appalachian by a few points, but that is when Clements and Helton are well and going strong.

The game tonight should be the best home game of the year and the boys are rarin' to go.

Scotty Perkins is in fine shape and so are the Parsons—so don't sell the home team short!

INTRAMURAL TEAMS IMPROVEMENT MARKS

Monday was a full day for the intramural teams. All eight of the teams played jam-up ball and a marked improvement was noticed on every team.

The Williams Hardrocks again looked like they had the best team but ole Peacock and his outfit are coming along o.k.

That skating isn't what it was when we were youngsters.

How John H. feels about Zach W. going with all those cute girls from East Hall.

That Marylu P. and M. A. are having big times together. Hey, what happened to Forrest H.?

Parris Island had a good reception Wednesday. Those Hall girls really know the art of receiving the Marines. For any information along this line, ask Dot A.

Where Pat C. became so skilled at playing pool. She was doing all right at the Skate-R-Bowl.

That the little store opens nightly from 9:15 until 9:45 for any girl who wants to get her a male. Mary S. has a new dog named Brad. Wonder where she got the name?

Bo and Allene make wonderful skating partners.

That so many people in Lewis Hall are having their hair cut that the girls have composed a barber.

Shop quartet—From the looks of some of the hair, they must have been singing, "Oh, You Ugly Child."

HOW OLD IS GEOMETRY?

Clay textbooks unearthed last week in Iraq indicate that school-boys in the little Sumerian county seat of Shadippur, in 2,000 B.C., were working with triangles and circles in a way that would be familiar to high school students of today. This was more than 1,700 years before Euclid, generally considered the author of the first principles of geometry.—The Pathfinder.

CREATION

"And the Lord God formed Man of dust of the ground"—Gen. 2-7.

Out of the maters, the mists, the deeps—

The firmaments shake beneath the Almighty's sweep—

Rising from dust, dirt, decay; Out of a world—

The waters must run, must cut, must curl;

The mists will rise, envelope the world.

Oh, lonely the soul, the new-born soul!

Out of a world—

The new-born earth feels his uncertain tread;

And under the brushes he makes his bed,

Someday to wake, someday to live Out in the world.

Wistful Thinking

(Upon Thoughts of Education)

(Sonnet by Lola Robbin)

Why go to college? asked the maiden gay,
I'd rather sit at home and cook and sew

Than go away to learn what I don't know,

Or irritate my brain by work each day;

I'll stay right here and lure a man this way.

She sat at home and lazy mixed her dough—

Not dollar bills, but biscuits for her Joe,

And sighs and crys and need are all her pay.

Her friend, Annette, whose high school years were spent

And love for knowledge led her off to school,

Through work and trials and purposes e'er unbent

Did learn to make good use of every tool

Her Fred and she together own a mint—

A wealth of knowledge—she's nobody's fool!
